Help us elect
Linda Robertson

Meet Linda Robertson, a dedicated and passionate environmental advocate. She believes that the current generation holds the responsibility of addressing climate change promptly to secure a sustainable future for our children and grandchildren.

With a background as a research scientist, Linda has contributed to various projects aimed at promoting energy conservation and cost reduction for businesses. By cutting down carbon emissions, we can simultaneously create job opportunities.

Linda advocates for leveraging competitive markets in Illinois to foster energy innovation and generate clean energy jobs. She emphasizes that improving existing environmental policies should not be a source of political discord.

Committed to making decisions based on evidence and collaborating with leaders from all perspectives, Linda aims to enhance Illinois' clean energy infrastructure and position the state as a trailblazer in the rapidly expanding global clean energy sector.

Join us at Linda's fundraiser on April 29th to support a practical, proactive pro-environmentalist leader for the Illinois House.

We need new climate leaders now more than ever, and your help can make a difference!
